NAZI LEADERS CALM DURING FINAL HOURS

Hitler's Top Helpers, Facing Death, Seem Resigned to Their Fate.

NUERNBERG—(INS)—As the final 48 hours of their life expectancy ticked away today the condemned colleagues of Adolf Hitler appeared resigned to their fates.

An Allied official said they "spent a good night." However, several of them were given sedatives last night.

Former Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, one of those who required a pill to sleep, spent part of the day pleading his defense with a German doctor who attended him.

Ribbentrop said that if he had to repeat, "he would follow the same course."

He also recounted his alleged disagreement with Hitler over withdrawal from the League of Nations.

* * *

Streicher Firm.

Julius Streicher, the anti-Jewish editor, seemed to be interested primarily in learning the reactions of the other condemned men. He said "they must not feel down, but must be strong and brave."

All of the convicted spoke of their wives and families.

One officer said the condemned men do not know yet that their executions have been scheduled for Wednesday unless they have been informed through the prison "grapevine."

Their final hours are not being disturbed by any clanking of hammers. The gallows are not being constructed at the prison, it was said, but may be assembled at some distance and then transported to the prison grounds. The jail does not have gallows now.

* * *

Officials Mum.

While prison officials prepared the extraordinary security measures that will take effect before the executions, they refused to reply to leading questions for more information about plans for the hangings.

Guards armed with tommy-guns will be posted at close interval around the jail. Representatives of the Allied control council and other dignitanes will be provided with body-guards.

All roads leading into Nuernberg will be blocked and identity cards will have to be shown before admission to the city.

These precautions will be taken although authorities do not expect any interference with the hangings. One competent source said recent polls of German opinion led him to the conclusion that "any demonstration on the part of the Germans would be a very great surprise."

COURT AT WORK

High Tribunal Studies Cases Accumulated During Recess.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The supreme court's 1946 term got under way in earnest today. The tribunal met to dispose of several hundred appeals and hear the year's first arguments on pending cases.

The nine justices, with Fred M. Vinson in the chief justice's chair for the first time, formally opened the term last Monday with a brief session. The rest of the week, however was devoted to closed conferences at which the court reviewed appeals accumulated during the summer recess.

Community Fund Quiz

QUESTION—

Are any of the workers in the Community Fund campaign paid for their services or does any one receive a commission on funds raised?

ANSWER—Definietly No! The Mansfield Fund operates under the strict standards set up by the National Information Bureau, and this national Dunn and Bradstreet for philanthropic organizations frowns on paying persons to raise charitable welfare funds. No organization or agency that pays a commission for this work should be supported by the public, according to established ethics. Approximately 1,000 citizens give their time and efforts once each year to raising the money to support 11 Red Feather agencies of the Community Fund. The only paid workers are the regular personnel of the Fund office.

'Kickoff' Breakfast Of 300 Workers Gives Campaign Enthusiastic Sendoff

Chairman's Challenge Accepted

Some 300 workers in the $94,067 Community Fund campaign accepted at a "kick-off" breakfast today a challenge from their chairman to prove that "Mansfield will remain a progressive city."

Amid a profusion of red feathers, symbol of community cooperation for the benefit of all, the workers sang spirited campaign songs in the Mansfield-Leland hotel, and then heard a pep talk by a veteran Cleveland Community Fund worker.

Challenging each worker to become a salesman for the "most constructive job in the city," John A. Greene, drew on his experience as a Cleveland Community Fund worker for 27 years, to accentuate the sales aspects of the campaign. He was introduced by W. E. Slabaugh, jr., general campaign chairman.

The breakfast was held at 8:30 a. m. with the Brandenberg Chevrolet company serving as host for the second successive year.

* * *

"Easiest and Hardest."

"You workers have the easiest job in the world and also the hardest," Greene said. "Everyone's going to give to the Community Fund but it's your job to see that they give the right amount.

"It's the plus amount to the regular contribution that you should work for. Take your cards, multiply them by 10 and add a dollar sign—that's your goal in the extra amount. Your contribution cards represent the Community Fund. It's your job to do the job well."

Greene was voted "outstanding citizen of Cleveland" by the Cleveland American Legion post in 1943 and has served both as president of the Community Fund and the Cleveland Welfare Federation.

Industry Backs Drive.

Vivid evidence that Mansfield industry is already behind the campaign was presented by Slabaugh in reporting that 13 of the 40 companies in the industrial division have given assurance that

POLICE PROBE KNIFING, THEFTS

Mansfielder Treated For Multiple Cuts.

Police today were investigating two thefts involving $200 and the cutting of a North Franklin avenue man who was admitted to General hospital with multiple injuries.

Cut in a fight yesterday was Thomas Greer, of 276 North Franklin avenue. He was wounded about the neck and left hand and suffered a fractured left elbow, officers reported.

Officers found a large hunting knife in a window of an East Sixth street basement which they believe may have been used in the fight.

Meanwhile, James R. Brown, of Shiloh, reported the theft of $180 early yesterday while he was at North Diamond street night club.

A North Diamond street man and woman are being held for questioning in connection with the theft. Brown told officers that he accidentally left his wallet on a table at the night club and when he returned for it, it was gone.

Leonard Holt, 315 Springmill street, told officers that he was attacked by a man in the driveway of an East Fifth street ice company early yesterday and that the man stole $20.

Verdis Robert, of Butler, reported to police that someone attempted to enter his car last night while it was on Park drive and that the would-be thieves broke off two door handles.

Paper Hints Duke Might Get a Job

LONDON —(INS)— The News Chronicle reported dispatches from Sidney today which state that the Duke of Windsor is being mentioned as a possible successor to the Duke of Gloucester as governor general of Australia.

The London newspaper quoted the Sidney Sun in a report attributed to a member of the Australian Labor party that a party caucus Oct. 31 will discuss a proposal that the former monarch should be sought as governor general.

GRAIN BARN BURNS

BETHEL —(AP)— Fire of undetermined origin swept through a grain storage barn here yesterday causing nearly $5,000 damages. Owner Robert B. Hamilton said three tons of fertilizer and a coal truck were included in the loss.

Meat-Famished Nation Cocks Ear To Get Lowdown on Truman Plan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Housewives scurrying for meat and politicians for votes cocked an ear to the White House for President Truman's decision tonight on what to do about getting steaks and roasts back.

Hours before the chief executive's all-network broadcast set for 10 p. m. Eastern Standard time, the Republican party termed the scheduled address "political" and demanded radio time to reply.

While there was no clear-cut indication what Mr. Truman plans to say in his 15-minute discussion of stabilization and the meat problem, the issue before him boiled down to this:

Whether to scrap meat controls outright, as many Republicans and some Democratic leaders have demanded, or keep them unchanged.

Or, whether to compromise on some relaxation of controls involving perhaps higher ceilings, a bonus plan to induce marketing of livestock, and possibly importation of meat.

Mr. Truman is on record as firmly opposed to removal of OPA controls. He took this stand Sept. 26, but at a news conference last week he declined to comment when asked whether he had changed his mind.

One indication that he may have came from a high official who is familiar with the problem. He hinted to a reporter that top aides helping prepare Mr. Truman's speech met at the White House last night and that decontrol of meat is in the picture.

There has been speculation, moreover, that Mr. Truman might deal with wage controls, too, and possibly scrap that program.

On the other hand, among those playing an active part in drafting the president's statement are OPA Administrator Paul Porter and Reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Porter has openly opposed removal of meat controls. Steelman, on the subject of controls generally, recently said that to "let prices go" would be the "worst possible" course.

Cave-In of Gravel Pit Kills 4 Boys

CAMDEN, N. J.—(UP)—Heavy rains were blamed today for the cave-in of a gravel pit in which four farm boys were buried alive.

The dead were George Schini, 11; his brother, Robert, 12, both of nearby Blackwood; Paul Conover, 13, Conovers Corners, and Robert Hayward, 12, Blackwood Lake.

PAYS WITH LIFE

Maid Goes to Electric Chair For Murder of Mistress.

BELLEFONTE, Pa.—(INS)—Corrine Sykes, sullen 22-year-old Philadelphia housemaid, paid with her life today in the Rockview penitentiary's electric chair for the butcher-knife slaying of Mrs. Freda Wodlinger, wealthy Oak Lane matron.

The young housemaid was convicted of murdering Mrs. Wodlinger, her employer of three days, and fleeing with $2,000 worth of furs and jewelry.

Killing Frost Withers Gardens In City Area

Mansfield area gardens, many of which survived previous cold snaps, were withered and blackened today after a killing frost and light freeze put an end to growing crops Sunday.

While the temperature reading at the Ohio Public Service company substation yesterday was 35, some sections of the county reported 32 or lower and there was a trace of ice in some communities.

The weatherman said this afternoon and tonight would be fair and warmer. Tomorrow, expected to be partly cloudy and moderately warm, may bring some showers.

By 8 a. m. yesterday the mercury had only climbed to 36 degrees but by the same hour today the mercury had climbed back to 47 degrees. At noon today the temperature was 56.

The expected rain, already falling in northwestern Ohio, is to cover all of the state by tomorrow, forecasters reported.

Chilly temperatures which reached a low of 30 degrees at Zanesville and hovered around the freezing mark at a number of other locations, put an end to the growing season for corn and soybeans in Richland county, County Agent George B. Ganyard reported.

"Normally mature by now, the corn and soybean crops here will be a little lighter than usual. The growing season has been shortened on both ends by cool weather," Ganyard said.

Corn is considered the county's most important crop, with soybeans third.

3 INJURED IN AREA TRAFFIC

Two Cyclists Hurt in Crash Northwest of City.

Three persons were injured in traffic accidents in the Mansfield area over the week-end, two of them while riding a motorcycle which crashed into an auto yesterday afternoon.

Injured were A. B. Oman, 42, of Mansfield, R. D. 4; Charles W. Stringfellow, 23, of Mansfield, R. D. 2, and Mrs. Jennie Ling, 20, of 290 South Adams street.

Sheriff's deputies reported Oman suffered a deep cut on his forehead when he was thrown against the windshield of his auto which collided with a car driven by Robert Konves, 202 North Mulberry street, on Grace street early Sunday.

Both autos, after sideswiping, went into ditches at the side of the street. Oman was treated at General hospital and released.

Cycle, Car Collide.

Stringfellow and Mrs. Ling, who were riding the motorcycle, were treated for severe bruises and lacerations at General hospital and released. Their vehicle struck an auto driven by Monroe K. Eckert, 44, of 190½ North Main street, at the intersection of State Route 39 and Averill avenue yesterday afternoon.

State highway patrolmen said Stringfellow, who was traveling westward on Averill avenue, was cited to municipal court on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

Mansfield police reported that a car owned by Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield collided with a state highway patrol cruiser early Sunday morning on North Main street.

The Bromfield car, driven by Thomas L. Simpson, 51, of Lucas, R. D. 1, chauffeur for Bromfield,

Freight Car Goes Wild, Hits Hotel

SPRINGFIELD —(U.P.)— Workmen began the task of cleaning up debris here today after a freight train jumped the track and ployed into the lobby of the Frances hotel.

The engiue of the train left the track at the Fountain avenue crossing Sunday morning and the 11th car—a box car—smashed into the outside wall of the hotel. The wall was demolished and the lobby filled with debris, but no one was believed killed or injured. Traffic in the street was blocked.

REDS WANT BIG FOUR REVIEW OF PARLEY'S WORK

Soviet Diplomat Says United States Dominated Paris Conference Actions.

PARIS — (AP) — Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared today that the results of the Paris peace conference were "unsatisfactory" and charged that it had been dominated by the United States.

Molotov remarked that only portions of the draft treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland pleased Russia and indicated that many of the issues would be thrown back into the foreign ministers council where decisions must be unanimous.

He accused the United States, Great Britain and France of "violating their agreements" and "retreating" from four-power accord in the adoption of "a number of anti-democratic measures" in connection with Trieste.

He spoke critically of guarantees written into Balkan treaties for free navigation of the Danube and complained that the conference had refused to fix Bulgarian boundaries as of January, 1941—an action that would have given Bulgaria some territory from Greece.

* * *

Parley Nears End.

The conference of 21 nations, taking action on the final draft treaty with Finland, prepared to adjourn tomorrow. The draft treaties then must be approved finally by the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France at meetings in New York.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg spoke before Molotov and demanded that the Finnish reparation bill be pared from $300,000,000 to $200,000,000—a move that kindled Molotov's anger. The Michigan senator said:

"The United States will leave its motives to the verdict of history in connection with the winning of the war and writing of a just peace. We decline to plead as defendants among allies to whom we have given every ounce of cooperation in blood and treasure of which a great nation is capable. But we shall continue to speak for the American conception of justice and fair play."

* * *

Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin of Great Britain upheld the Russian claim to $300,000,000 from Finland.

Molotov said Vandenberg's address "made an unfavorable impression both as to his consistency and his frankness." He asserted that Russia had avoided putting "pressure" on Finland for two years but that the western allies had not done likewise.

"We draw the attention of Finland to the difference between a true and a scheming friendship," he said.

Molotov spoke violently against criticisms of the veto power of the five leading allied nations in the United Nations Security Council, saying:

"The right to veto is not involved, but a question of whether they desire unanimity and cooperation among the great countries."

Australia, Cuba and the president of the general assembly of the U. N., Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, has voiced recent criticism of the veto.

Disputes Keep This Detroit Factory Busy

DETROIT—(INS)—Disputes keep one production line moving in Detroit.

In fact, arguments have helped this unique assembly line break all records in turning out finished items at the rate of about one every three minutes.

The site of this breath-taking pace is Detroit's "divorce factory" located in the soot-covered Wayne county court building.

Divorce production charts in 1945 gave Michigan 17,664 bills filed against 11,399 cases reported in Reno—long acclaimed the nation's divorce capital.

The cause? The friend of the courts office points to the influx of war workers and out of towners attracted by the state's legislation which provides divorces with only one-year's residence.

Plan Final Rites For Gen. Stilwell

SAN FRANCISCO —(U.P.)— The ashes of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, hero of the 1942 retreat from Burma, will be scattered over the Pacific ocean Wednesday after simple, private funeral services at his Carmel, Cal., home.

Stilwell, 63, sixth army commander known to members of the armed forces over the world as "Vinegar Joe," died quietly in his sleep Saturday at Letterman General hospital. He had failed to survive an operation for a liver condition 10 days before.

FOOD POISONS SEVEN

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Seven persons were treated at General hospital yesterday for what doctors described as poisoning after they had eaten together at a family reunion dinner. All were released within a few hours.

TRIAL OPENS

Ashland Berry Patch Slaying Case Being Heard Today.

ASHLAND—Charles E. Briggs, 62-year-old Lake township farmer, went on trial in Ashland County Common Pleas Court today on a second-degree murder charge.

He is accused of the berry-patch slaying on July 31 of Mrs. Mabel Jane McKinley, a Wayne county mother of three children.

The slaying occurred while Mrs. McKinley and her husband were picking berries on the Briggs farm in southeastern Ashland county. Briggs has been free under a $10,000 bond.

BOY'S BURNS FATAL

COLUMBUS—(INS)—A nine-year-old boy died early today and his parents were in a Columbus hospital with burns suffered in a kerosene explosion at their Licking county farm home near Johnstown. The child, William Adams, died in the hospital.

SCHOOL GETS $150,000

WILMINGTON —(U.P.)— A bequest of more than $150,000 was left to the Wilmington college endowment fund by the will of the late Mrs. Lida K. Johnson of Urbana, it was revealed today.

Winchell — On Broadway

WHEN ADMIRAL HALSEY was here he convulsed listeners with his pet story in which he stars. It was a stormy, wartime, middle-of-the-night on the Pacific. Halsey and his Flag Officer (ex-Gov. Harold Stassen) were on deck, staring out into the ebony space. Above them were two sailors, one of whom audibly muttered: "Do you think the Old Soandso knows where-the-hell he is?"

"I dunno," said the other, "but the old b——— has been all over the seven seas, so I ain't worryin'."

Stassen was hoping Halsey hadn't heard—when The Old Soandso quipped: "Harold—why do they always call me OLD?"

* * *

Joe E. Lewis, the Copa star, tried to send this wire: "Dear Senator Taft: Why don'tchu go down to the O.P.A. and let them drop a ceiling on you?"

Taft isn't running for President. He's goose-stepping.

* * *

Some of us were gabbing about the gravity of the peace situation and one of the group asked: "Whatever became of the Roosevelt-haters?"

"They're now Roosevelt-mourners," sarcasm'd Youknowho!

Barry Gray, whose all-night elegy makes many of his targets see red (and others green), was panning colyumists again.

"My two favorite columists," said the highly-opinionated newcomer, "can be identified by the initials of this station: W. O. R.—Wilson Or Runyon. But I liked Wilson better when he was president."

* * *

Eugene Tillinger relays the one about the two Russian soldiers in a small Parisian bistro. One of them, in disgust, said to the Frenchman at the next table: "Look at that poor waiter. He is unable to take care of the business all alone. Poor fellow, how he must rush back and forth. Not a single moment to catch his breath. Here you see how working people are being exploited in capitalist countries!"

"I am sorry," said the Frenchman, "he is not an exploited waiter. He is the owner."

* * *

Headline: "Goering No. Sleeping Well."

He will soon. The report adds: "Goering weeps for first time."

Now ain't that a shame, Mame? Mebbe Mr. Taft should go over and hold Fatzo's paw for the next few nights.

* * *

During an outbreak of street and studio violence in the current Hollywood film strike, Jackie Elinson reports that some pickets were congesting pedestrian traffic when a famed and conceited movie star arrived in his limousine. Seeing the mob holding picket signs, he hammed: "Oh, heavens! NOW look what they want me to autograph!"

* * *

Clarence Edward Heller's contrib: A well-intentioned, but poor, chap wished to erect a stone to his recently departed wife's memory. It was a small tribute, and he had to count the pennies to have an inscription placed thereon. So he told the "chiseler," who graved out grave-stones, to place on his wife's memorial "Lord, she was thine."

The man could not find space, so he simply inscribed, "Lord, she was thin."

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—The quick, nasty response to Senator Taft's comment on the Nuernberg sentences by members of his own Republican party, among others, is an example of the punishment that honest men must be brave enough to face when they express unpopular opinions on sensitive subjects. Mr. Taft is a strict constitutionalist. He said we would not teach the German people respect for American principles of justice "by trying men for crimes which were not crimes when they were committed, contrary to all the principles of our law which outlaws ex post facto condemnation."

A few days later he erred in remarking that it were better to have sentenced to life imprisonment the men who were condemned to death, but that seems to have been an off-hand response in a debate. It was not a fatal error, however, for often in our justice we reduce the death sentence to life so that the convicted person may live to enjoy the benefit of a doubt or complete vindication.

Senator Taft expressed no sympathy for the convicted Nazis. He expressed only a strong devition to the American system of justice. He did not even yield to the temptation to point out that if the improvised Nuernberg legal principles and processes were correct, then Stalin, Molotov and the rest of the Soviet rulers should have been placed on trial in the same dock with the Nazis for their unprovoked wars of aggression and conquest against Finland and Poland, the latter invasion and partition committed in concert with Hitler.

* * *

TAFT TOOK his stand on the American constitution and American law against a departure which, once adopted in our internal justice, would expose every citizen to the peril of punishment, even unto death, for thinking unkindly of the president.

Yet, in New York, Governor Dewey and Irving M. Ives, Republican candidates for governor and United States senator, immediately repudiated Taft, who is Dewey's principal rival at this moment for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948.

They issued a joint statement in which they said: "No one can have any sympathy for these Nazi leaders who brought such agony upon the world."

That was campaign stuff, addressed to the New York vote and no compliment to intelligent voters who discriminate between emotional propaganda and reason. It took no courage in Dewey and Ives to say this but Taft showed courage for he knew he would be falsely accused of pleading for the Nazis and condoning their acts.

Without mentioning Taft or his remarks, this statement by inuendo, accused him of sympathizing with the convicted men.

In the manner of Senator Bilbo, of Mississippi, the Democratic state campaign manager in New York challenged Taft, "to come into this state and repeat his plea for the lives of the Nazi war criminals."

THE SUGGESTION here is that Taft might be denied a fair hearing or even mobbed if he were to present to a New York audience a reasoned argument against a group execution which he regards as a lynching. Again he is accused of pleading for the lives of the condemned Nazis when he has expresseed no concern whatever for these individuals but has stood out conspicuous and, momentarily, almost alone, for law and justice according to the American way.

Taft surely will lose his appeal for observance of American legal principles. Those Nazis are doomed and the American concept comes out of the experience cut and bruised, at best. He may lose the nomination and the presidency. But it would have been better for the American people if those who attacked him had had the honesty and moral courage to meet him on the issue, resisting the temptation to cultivate votes by imputing to him a personal sympathy for individuals whom he detests no less ardently than they.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The Pollyannas in pants on the federal payroll are getting me down. They're finding silver linings in every empty meat box, lard can, and sugar jar.

The less candy we eat, they claim, the fewer holes we'll get in our teeth. They say that without fat to fry our potatoes, our stomachs will last longer.

Now we've got a doc in the marble sanctum of the public health service who says not to worry about the soap shortage. Bathing isn't really necessary, he adds, because washing our ears is only a habit. Soaping ourselves may be fun, but it won't make us feel any better.

This anonymous sawbones says he's sure of this. One of his pals is an Indian who hasn't had a bath in 60 years and he's 60 years old. The doc says Chief Dirty Neck is one of the healthiest men on the reservation.

WHEN MY BRIDE read this in the newspapers, she blew up. She didn't exactly froth (soap being scarce in the Othman household), but she said I should look up this medico. If he was tattle-tale gray, she said, well and good. He was an honest man. But if he was fresh-scrubbed pink in color and his shirt was clean, then she said I should expose him.

I regret to announce that the government's exponent of the bathless life looks as clean as the next fellow. He also smells faintly of lavender. He is a hypocrit. In addition he's off-the-record. Won't allow his name to appear in print.

This probably is just as well. Mrs. O. otherwise would grab him by the ear and plunge him into a tub of slipso-dipso, the modern-miracle phoney soap. This looks like soap, but she believes it is made of muriatic acid and ashes from an atomic bomb factory. Doc, she washes the dishes in this. It makes no suds. But it gets the grease off the gravy bowl. It also takes the skin off my favorite dish washer's hands. These are sore. So is she.

I kept your secret, Doc; I didn't reveal your name, but she said she wondered how the Washington facilities were at the public health service? I am presuming that these are not off-the-record, too.

* * *

THERE SEEMS to be no shortage of soap in the health service's washrooms: over each washbowl is a container of olive oil soap, free for the pushing of a button. My bride said she was glad to hear this, Doc.

She said that when she'd given you a Slipso-Dipso treatment so you would appreciate her suffering, she would let you take her dirty dishes down to Constitution avenue and wash same in your soothing soap.

Her only worry, Doc, is your bathless Indian. Keep him away from her dishes. She's not concerned about his dropping the plates. You know what she's worrying about, Doc?

She says federal officials may enjoy associating with Chief Dirty Neck. She says you can have him as a house guest. She doesn't want him. She wants soap.

Not soft soap from government spokesmen, Doc, but stuff that makes lather on the dish rag.

M'DONOUGH RITES

Funeral services for John McDonough, who was found dead near his home on Eighth avenue, Saturday morning, will be held Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the Wolford funeral home with Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, assistant pastor of the First English Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

EXPECT 3,000 AT POLICEMEN'S BALL TONIGHT

Committeemen Anticipate Big Crowd; Mayor, Wife to Lead Grand March at 10 P. M.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 persons are expected to jam the Coliseum tonight for the 13th annual Mansfield police ball. Dancing begins at 9 p. m. to music by Jimmy Joyce's band.

Sponsored for the benefit of child safety work and to provide the department with practice ammunition, the ball annually draws large crowds from Mansfield and the area.

At 10 p. m., with James Brownscomb as master of ceremonies, the ball's traditional grand march gets underway with Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Mrs. Vaughn in the lead.

The mayor is to be followed by Service-Safety Director William W. Enlow and his wife. Then come the men of the police department, headed by Police Chief Meade K. Bates. An American Legion color guard will keynote the march.

Law enforcement officials throughout the area have been invited. This year's ball marks the first time since the war that a full compliment of officers will be able to attend.

Some 30 members of the department worked last night to decorate the Coliseum and to arrange tables. Police Lt. R. R. Hout heads the dance committee. The ball is sponsored by the police recreation club.

Funds from the dance go to provide schoolboy patrolmen with equipment and for other child safety work and to help purchase the thousands of rounds of ammunition which local officers use in keeping their shooting eyes "sharp."

Up and Down The Street

BANG, BANG—

The bang-bang of corn hitting the blackboards resounded today on the farm of C. L. Miller, west of Lexington. Corn was being picked, Miller said, on the 73 acres that were planted "before the twenty-fifth of April." It's the sixth time in 42 years, he added, that he successfully has planted corn in April. A crib and three silos already are filled and this morning picking started on the farm of Miller's son, C. K. Miller. Later, the pickers will move to the farm of another son, Donald Miller. The yield was estimated at 65 bushels to the acre, "not as good," Miller said, "as we have raised."

JOHN'S ON JOB—

The office staff at the Finefrock Funeral home was amused this morning over several telephone calls asking if the mortuary had been sold and John H. Finefrock, sr., was about to retire. Finefrock was hard at work at his desk at the time the calls came in and said he had every intention of remaining there for a long time to come. He said that he had no plans for moving his business, either, in the foreseeable future.

Originally, some $580 in dimes and currency had been reported stolen. Officers said they are still investigating the case and that no arrests have been made.

The recovered money was found in a steel bank, hidden in the garage, police said. The bank had been smashed open with an axe, they said.

MEAT, MONEY MADE ISSUES IN CAMPAIGN

Lausche Flays Cost of GOP Activities; Herbert Raps Price Control Appeal.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Meat and money were made issues in the Ohio gubernatorial campaign today.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, campaigning for re-election on the Democratic ticket, asserted in a campaign speech at Akron last night "if money can win elections, your next governor will not be Frank Lausche."

His Republican opponent, Thomas J. Herbert, in a statement issued here, described Lausche's appeal to President Truman to lift price controls on meat as a "despairing candidate's cry for help from his New Deal allies."

Lausche, who addressed the American-Slovak Political club, appealed to "the simple, heartfelt people of the state of Ohio who have faith in me to help me in this election to defeat the power of money."

The chief executive declared that in Cleveland "my opposition spent $37,000 for precinct workers to organize registration for the Republicans" on the final registration day.

"My opposition spent in one city, in one day, more money than I will spend in my entire campaign," Lausche said. "Further, my opposition has promised to pay a bonus for further campaign work. I have no money to pay bonuses, nor do I believe they should be paid."

Lausche concluded, "but money has never won elections in free America, and will not win now if those who have faith organize a mouth-to-mouth campaign."

Charger Reversal.

Referring to Lausche's telegram to the president Saturday night recommending termination of price control on meat, Herbert declared that Lausche only last June backed the Office of Price Administration.

The argument over OPA went on over the radio in a Columbus town meeting debate here last night.

Representative George H. Bender of Cleveland, Republican congressman-at-large, discussing high prices, declared "the New Deal and the New Deal alone is responsible for the plight in which we find ourselves today."

His Democratic opponent, State Senator William N. Boyd, retorted, "the Republicans can bear full responsibility for the crippled OPA we have today. They teamed up with the southern Democrats to defeat price controls."

In Cleveland, District Council No. 7 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO) announced it was conducting a state-wide campaign to obtain 100,000 signatures on petitions demanding presidential seizure of meat-packing houses.

NAVY NOTES CITY'S GROWTH

It Expands Recruiting Area For Station Here.

Expansion of the territory to be included within the jurisdiction of the Mansfield Navy recruiting station from two to seven counties, effective tomorrow, was cited today as another indication of the growing importance of Mansfield.

With the closing of the Cleveland recruiting station, part of the territory carried by that station has been shifted to the Mansfield station which will now cover Wyandot, Crawford, Marion, Morrow and Knox counties in addition to its original two counties of Richland and Ashland.

J. T. Daley, C. C. M., and Eldin O. Davenport, C. W. T., will be in charge of the expanded facilities of the Mansfield station. Office hours will remain the same, 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday, and 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Saturdays, Chief Daley said.

2 From City At State Meet

Two officers of the Mansfield chapter of the Future Retailers of Ohio were in Columbus today to attend an organization meeting of the state group.

Representing Mansfield were James Metcalf, president of the group here, and Gordon Wyllie, secretary-treasurer.

State officers were to be elected in Columbus and arrangements made for a general meeting of the Ohio group later.

The Mansfield organization is affiliated with the distributive education class at Senior high school. J. C. Stout is the teacher.

West Side Water Bills Due Tuesday

Tuesday will be the final day to pay west side water bills without penalty, Fred Lingafelter, secretary of the city water and garbage departments, reminded Mansfielders today.

He said a considerable amount still was due. West side residents were asked to bring their statements with them when paying bills.

Constitution For Fourth French Republic Wins Voters' Approval

MARGIN CLOSE DESPITE WORK OF COALITION

Single-Handed Fight By Gen. De Gaulle Against Plan Bears Weight.

PARIS — (INS) — The ministry of the interior announced today that the voters had approved the proposed new constitution for the fourth French Republic which was supported by a three-party coalition.

Official overall figures for continental France were:

Yes—9,470,000 votes.
No—7,790,676 votes.
Abstentions—7,776,893.

Figures from Corsica and Algeria have not yet been announced, but these are not expected to alter the result.

About one-third of the 24 million eligible voters failed to exercise their franchise.

The narrowness of the victory and the wholesale abstentions from voting were interpreted as a triumph for Gen. Charles De Gaulle who stood alone against the combined opposition of the popular Republicans, Socialists and Communists.

Under the new constitution, second to be voted on within a year, a bicameral legislature will be elected for a five-year term next month.

The upper house will be advisory with a restraining influence on legislation. The president's powers will be about the same as those he exercised under the third republic.

Gen. De Gaulle, who had charged that the proposed constitution might pave the road to anarchy, is expected to argue that the decision does not represent the will of the majority.

Observers believed that most of the eligible voters who remained away from the polls are members of President George Bidault's popular Republican movement.

They held that this was indicative of a split in the party and forecast a weakening in the November 10 elections. The result, they declared, will add new strength to Rightist parties opposing cooperation with the Communists.

SADDLE CLUB ELECTS

ASHLAND—Newly elected officers of the Ashland county Paint and Plain Saddle club include Jack Halliwill, president, Mrs. Halliwill, secretary, Mrs. E. F. Milliron, assistant secretary and Frank Smith, treasurer.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Maybe you're not picking Texas as the No. 1 college football team this week — what with Army, Notre Dame and U. C. L. A. still in the argument—but here's what one Oklahoma scout reported before last Saturday's fracas: "They don't make any mistakes, offensively or defensively, and thus will not beat themselves as so many college teams do; their quarterbacking is exceptional; they have terrific team speed, four ends who can outrun our fastest backs and the greatest collegiate forward passer in the country in Bobby Layne." The Sooner scout, Walter Driskill, insisted the Texas team is so good it can telegraph its plays and get there, anyhow, by perfect execution . . . What Driskill neglected to mention was that Oklahoma has a line which has held Army and Texas each to 83 net yards by rushing.

FINE SUPPORT

Five years ago the Tucson, Ariz. city council passed an ordinance which read: "It shall be unlawful for any visiting football player or football team to carry, convey, tote, kick, throw, pass or otherwise transport or propel any inflated pigskin across the University of Arizona goal line or score a safety within the confines of the city of Tucson, county of Pima, state of Arizona." . . . The law still is on the books, though it never has been enforced . . . Maybe the St. Louis city fathers should do something of the sort for the Cardinals.

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS

Ted Williams is reported to have bought enough shotguns this summer to stock a sporting goods store. Maybe he should collect some of that birdshot the St. Louis pitchers have been throwing at him . . . Belated thought by Eddie (Lansford, Pa.) ## Bixler Can Say, 'I Told You So'

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—If it was any satisfaction to Coach Paul Bixler of Ohio State, he was one of the few persons in Columbus today who could say "I told you so," about that 20-7 licking his Buckeyes took at Wisconsin Saturday.

Bixler was openly concerned about the game all last week, and kept his team working into the darkness each night he had available for practice.

It apparently was a deep respect for Coach Harry Stuhldreher's ability plus the added spark that Wisconsin always has when Ohio State invades Madison that had Bixler worried, and his concern was both genuine and justified, as it turned out.

Columbus football bugs spent the week-end in a sorrowful attempt to figure out what happened to Ohio State in the second half, and the most popular opinion was "too much travel."

But those who made it back from Madison seemed to think that "what happened" to Ohio State in the second half was Wisconsin—a Wisconsin that suddenly exploded when a lucky break or two lit the fuse.

The Buckeyes came out of the game in good physical shape, aside from Quarterback Dick Farlmer's re-injured ankle. It was back to the grind today with Purdue coming up Saturday, and memories of that stunning upset of a year ago to be erased.

Baseball Pension Fund Gets Start

ST. LOUIS — (INS) — The proposed pension fund for Major league baseball players was off to a rich start at St. Louis today after National league President Ford Frick announced the entire $175,000 world series broadcast fee would be donated.

Frick said last night that members of both world series teams, the two leagues and the commissioner's office had agreed to give their shares to the fund.

If the pension fund, originally suggested by Cardinal Shortstop Marty Marion, fails to materialize, the money will be returned, Frick said.

CARDS TOP SOX, 4-1; EVEN SERIES

'Cat' Brecheen Proves Nemesis of Boston

By JACK HAND

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Sam Breadon is selling tickets today for a seventh world series game at Sportsman's park because his St. Louis Cardinals have as many lives as a cat—Harry "the Cat" Brecheen.

If it weren't for the game little lefthander from Oklahoma, the Boston Red Sox would have been measured for series rings long ago and the Red Birds would be scattered to the four winds instead of planning strategy for tomorrow's finale.

In the cold light of dawn there is room for a solid suspicion that "The Cat" and the Cards spent their last life in a 4-1 win yesterday. The Sox have Dave (Boo) Ferriss, their 25-game winner, primed for a second straight shutout bid and there is no reason to believe he won't be just as effective as he was in Boston.

The odds definitely are against the home club which will have Murry Dickson on the mound.

However, an extra day of rest will benefit the Cards. Marty Marion is playing with an aching back. Howie Pollet, if needed, will have more time to let his torn side muscle mend and Enos Slaughter, who played gamely in the sixth contest despite a painfully swollen right elbow, will be more like his usual self. Yesterday, the slugging right fielder contributed two nice catches and knocked Mickey Harris out of the box with a third-inning single.

Slaughter was the last Card to face the lefthanded Harris who yielded five hits, all in the third, before he was replaced by Tex Hughson. The big Texan, who was the focal point of the 20-hit attack Thursday, turned back St. Louis with two hits before he went out for a pinchbatter and was replaced by Lefty Earl Johnson, against whom the Redbirds made one run in the eigth.

The Sox had given Brecheen a rocky first and second inning before Harris blew up. In the first, two singles and a walk loaded the bases with one out before Whitey Kurowski started a fast double play on Rudy York's rap. Two straight singles in the second came to naught when Erv Dusak threw out Bobby Doerr, who was trying to move from first to third on Pinky Higgins single.

After that Brecheen steadied down and pitched the same kind of masterful game he had turned a week ago. He retired 10 men in a row from the second to the fifth and yielded only seven hits in all. Rudy York's triple off the left centerfield wall followed by Doerr's fly to Harry Walker broke his string of 15 shutout innings in the seventh.

Catcher Del Rice opened the big third with a single to left. "The Cat" forced him at second and went to third on Red Schoendienst's double.

Terry Moore knocked home the first run with a fly to Culberson and Stan Musial kept Harris in hot water by beating Johnny Pesky's throw from deep short of an infield single. Whitey Kurowski scored Schoendienst with a single and Slaughter rapped one through the box into centerfield, knocking in Musial and ending the day for Harris.

Toledo Waite, Newark Have Skeins Broken

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(INS Sports Writer)

The age-old adage that touchdowns and not first downs bring the payoff was written in large letters today in reports of weekend high school football play.

Two of the state's most formidable grid powers — Toledo Waite and Newark — saw skeins broken that had extended over two seasons and 16 games without defeat. Both outplayed their conquerors — Toledo Libbey and Coshocton in every department except scoring.

Waite, generally recognized as state champion last year and undefeated in four starts this season, lost to Libbey, 8 to 6, on a fourth quarter safety. Newark succumbed to Coshocton, 7-6.

Libbey's Cowboys had labored all season in Waite's shadow, piling up four straight wins that went virtually unnoticed in the fanfare over Jack Mollenkopf's Waiters. The Cowboys were doped to lose by three touchdowns. Waite racked up nine first downs to five for Libbey.

Newark's loss was its first since the middle of the 1944 season.

While those upsets were transpiring, most of the other big wheels of scholastic football were winning as pre-ordained.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin was left all alone at the top of the heap as it drubbed East, 32 to 0. The victory made an even 30 games in which Latin has gone undefeated.

Mansfield inherited Waite's position as No. 1 challenger by drubbing Springfield, 38 to 0, for its fifth straight.

Other teams in last week's INS "Big Ten" were also victorious with one exception. Canton McKinley smashed its local rival Lincoln, 34-0; Massillon gave Alliance its second straight loss, 19-0; Campbell won a close one from stubborn Steubenville, 13-6; Lima Central was an easy 33-13 victor over Findlay; Steubenville Central Catholic edged rugged Youngstown Ursuline, 13-12.

* * *

Coach Paul Snyder's Mansfield Tygers got down to serious work this afternoon for their all-important clash with the Washington high school Tigers of Massillon.

A skull session which included a scouting report by Vern Hoffman, end mentor, started today's drill rolling. Snyder plans to hold closed sessions all week with scrimmages slated for tomorrow and Wednesday.

Massillon has 17 returning lettermen, eight of them took part in 1945, 40-6, massacre of Mansfield. Two backs—Junior Pedrotty and Paul Cary—are returning servicemen who won monograms before joining up with Uncle Sam.

McNabb, Hassinger, Vest Win Shooting Contests

Ensil McNabb was high man at 30 yards in the Mansfield Muzzle loaders semi-monthly shoot Saturday. McNabb's percentage was .749 followed by Cy Hassinger, with a .582, and T. Nelson, .499.

Hassinger took the 30 yard string with a three shots, 2.33 in from center. E. Vest won the 50 yard vest match when he shot a 2.01 in from center.

Girl's Soccer Tourney Going Strong At Senior High School

By BARBARA BAILEY

Girls' sports are in full swing at Mansfield Senior high school with the annual fall soccer tournament holding the spotlight.

Games are played three nights a week—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—on the Tyger football field after school. The tournament began three weeks ago and Team 8 is in the van after several hard fought battles. Betty Calmers, Nancy Schultz, Barbara Bailey, Marilyn Beattie, Barbara Bertock, Minnie Bradley, Janie Van Tilburg, Pat Jackson, Jean Dettmer and Connie Mashey are on the leading team.

The Archery club was formed last week and competed for the first time this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Outdoor shoots will be held each Monday as long as the weather permits. Miss Martha Weimer is the instructor and Marilyn Miller is secretary of the bow and arrow group.

Laffoon's 271 Wins Golf Title

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — With the experience of 22 years of tournament play steadying his hand, Ky Laffoon of Orlando, Fla., dropped in a three-foot putt worth $2,000 here yesterday to cop the winner's spot in the $10,000 Montgomery open golf tournament.

The stroke gave him a Birdie four on the final hole and a tourney score of 271, just enough to avoid a tie and playoff with Harry Todd of Dallas, Tex., who had finished earlier with a 272 card.

Todd, former Western amateur titleholder who turned pro last year, collected $1,400 for his second place score.

Jim Ferrier of Chicago took third money of $1,000 with a 273. One stroke behind him were Herman Keiser, Masters champion from Akron, Ohio, and Ed Furgol, Mich., who won $750 each for their 274's.

At 275 was George Payton of Hampton, Va., who won $600, and next was Dale Morey of Springfield, Ill., whose 276, gave him $500.

Close behind were Fred Haas, jr., of New Orleans, George Fazio of Los Angeles and E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Little Rock, all with 277's and Joe Kirkwood, jr., of Hollywood and Skip Alexander of Lexington, N. C., with 278's.

The G. A. A. has appointed a committee to make arrangements for a special assembly prior to the Toledo Waite contest in two weeks. Dorla Wagner is chairman of the committee which has Frankie Lane, Marilyn Miller and Marian Haring as members.

At the last G. A. A. meeting, members decided that red's M's would be purchased and given to the girls when they have accumulated the necessary 2,000 points. Joanne Fay, soccer chairman, gave a report on the tournament.

Plans are being formulated for a Rifle club which will begin in about a month and tryouts will be held for swimming and tumbling starting next Monday. A movie on swimming concluded the G. A. A. meeting.

Bears Tie Rams In Pro League

(By International News Service)

The question of supremacy between the mighty Chicago Bears and the Los Angeles Rams, defending champions, remained unsettled today although the Bears were ahead in the standing with two wins, no defeats and one tie.

The Bears scored a touchdown in the final period yesterday to gain a 28-28 tie with the second-place Rams and avert an upset with less than three minutes left to play. Tommy Harmon made a brilliant 84-yard touchdown run for the Rams.

Sid Luckman, the Bear passmaster, threw three touchdown aerials and spearheaded the last period rally that enabled Chicago to tie the count and remain atop the Western division standings.

Chicago's Cardinals took to the air to beat the Detroit Lions, 36 to 14, and Fullback Ted Fritsch led the Green Bay Packers to a 19 to 7 triumph over the hitherto unbeaten Philadelphia Eagles.

Philadelphia's defeat, coupled with Washington's 24 to 14 victory over the New York Giants, put the undefeated Redskins at the top of the heap in the Eastern division. Sammy Baugh completed 11 out of 17 passes for the 'Skins.

The Pittsburgh Steelers handed the Boston Yanks their third straight setback, 16 to 7.

In All-America conference games on Satufday night, the undefeated Cleveland Browns racked up their sixth straight victory by beating the New York Yankees, Eastern division leaders, 7 to 0, and the San Francisco Forty-Niners upset the previously unbeaten Los Angeles Dons, 23 to 14.

OHIO COLLEGE II'S HAVE RUGGED TILTS

By DON STULL
(AP Sports Writer)

Only a quartet of Ohio college elevens sported perfect records today after a weekend of nip-and-tuck gridiron struggles that produced a series of ties and narrow victories and dumped five teams out of the unbeaten, untied class.

Those with slates still unblemished were: Ohio University and Kent State with three victories each; Defiance with two, and Oberlin, which opened its season with a 25-0 conquest of Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

Tie games edged the twice-victorious Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets and Mount Union's Purple Raiders from the select list. The Yellow Jackets, after rolling up 80 points and blanking their first two opponents, were held to a 0-0 deadlock by once-beaten Ohio Wesleyan's Bishops. The Purple Raiders skidded to a 6-6 tie on Ashland college's soggy gridiron.

Three teams were bounced into the defeated category.

Wilberforce, the state's leading offensive eleven with 145 points, dropper its first in four starts to Tuskegee Institute at Chicago by a 14-7 score.

Muskingum Muskies' two-game streak was ended by Ohio U. S.'s Bobcats who tallied three touchdowns in 19 minutes then coasted to a 38-0 decision with reserves playing most of the way.

Bluffton bowed the second time out as Kent State's Golden Flashes overpowered them, 39 to 0.

Two other contests on the weekend's 22-game card ended in deadlocks. Cedarville pushed over a fourth-quarter touchdown to even the score at 6-6 with Lawrence Tech in Detroit, and Toledo's Rockets, for the second time this season, wound up in a 14-14 tie, this time with Marshall's thundering herd at Huntington, W. Va. The Rockets opened their season with a 14-14 standoff against Western Reserve.

Ohio's prestige in the national grid picture suffered a comparative setback as Buckeye elevens, for the first time this season, were held even in eight contests against out-of-state foes. They won three, lost three and tied two for a season record of 21 victories, 14 defeats and two deadlocks against the outsiders.

Whippets Want Bellevue Scalp

SHELBY — The Shelby Whippets will be seeking revenge for a 20 to 6 defeat suffered last year when they entertain Bellevue here Friday night in a Northern Ohio league football game.

In other league games, Crestline plays at Bucyrus, Galion at Upper Sandusky and Norwalk at Willard.

The Whippets have won three games out of five, all of their wins have been against league opponents.

Coach Al Fendrick's eleven holds undisputed first place in the league. Against non-league opponents Shelby has not fared so good, losing to both opponents, New Philadelphia, 21 to 7, and Ashland, 18 to 0.

In league games, the Whippets have defeated Willard, 35 to 7; Galion, 14 to 0; and Bucyrus 26 to 6.

Another in the series of stag quarterback sessions for rooters and members of the coaching staff and football squad will be held at the Shelby high school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. today. The loss at Ashland will be discussed as well as a scouting report on Bellevue.

Bears Beat Miners

AKRON, O.—(AP)—Led by Halfback Herman Duhe, the Akron Bears won their first game of the season yesterday at the expense of the Scranton Miners, 36 to 0, in a Western division American pro-football contest. Duhe scored three touchdowns.

If Baby Has A Cold

AT BEDTIME rub throat, chest, back with VapoRub. Relief-bringing action starts instantly . . .

WORKS FOR HOURS while child sleeps to relieve coughs, muscular soreness and tightness.

Best-known home remedy you can use to relieve distress of children's colds is comforting Vicks VapoRub. Even while you rub it on, VapoRub starts to work to ease distress . . . and it keeps on working during the night. No wonder most mothers always do this when a cold strikes. VICKS VAPORUB

Or to be ministered to in their own homes by understanding nurses . . . To mend broken families . . . To give a helping hand in a sudden emergency . . . To give boys and girls the opportunity to grow up healthy, happy and strong . . . To keep them out of trouble by providing clean, wholesome fun . . . ### THE QUACKS LOOK WORRIED

It was early in the morning, so early that daylight was just beginning Peter Rabbit was over on the shore of the Big River where of course, he had no business to be He was at the edge of a great bed of wild rice and some rushes Both grow in water They like wet feet But the water mustn't be deep Just there for quite a distance up and down the Big River the water was just right for quite a way out from the shore The rice and the rushes had made a splendid growth there all summer They had come up thickly and grown tall Jenny Wren's cousins, the Marsh Wrens, had nested there So had some other feathered folk who love to be near water. Some of Jerry Muskrat's family had built two houses out in the rushes Mrs Black Duck had led her children there almost as soon as they could swim which was the day they were hatched in the hidden nest a little way up Laughing Brook. They had lived there through the summer They were still living there And through the late summer and early fall the Swallow folk had roosted nights in the rice and rushes

The rice was now brown for Jack Frost had made two or three brief visits Many of the tall stalks were bent and broken and the seeds had fallen into the water to the bottom where hungry Ducks could and did feast on them It was partly to see if Skimmer the Tree Swallow, he of the snowy waistcoat, and his friends were still sleeping there that had brought Peter there

"Quack, quack, quack," said a voice in a low tone It came from out in the rice Peter pricked up his long ears "Mrs Black Duck,' thought he, for the voice was familiar, and of course he knew that the Black Ducks had been living in the rice for a long time

'Quack, quack, quack" That was another voice Peter was sure of it It was a little louder, a little more harsh. Peter sat up very straight the better to look and listen

Quack, quack ' said the first voice

'Quack quack, quack," replied the other voice Was Mrs Black Duck talking with one of her children? Somehow Peter didn't think so

Gradually the light increased Peter continued to sit still watching and listening Those Ducks out in the rice continued to talk in low tones Now and then others joined in Presently into a little opening beside one of the Muskrat houses swam three Ducks The light fell full on them The head of one was green, a brilliant beautiful green He wore a narrow white collar above a waistcoat of rich war reddish brown Peter made an excited little hop It was Mr Quack the Mallard Duck One of the others was Mrs Quack and the third was Mrs Black Duck.

"I heard you folks when you came into the rice last night,' said Mrs Black Duck "I hope you have had a good journey"

"Fairly ' good, Cousin. Fairly good We were a little later getting here than we expected to be," replied Mrs Quack

'I suppose you had your usual large family this year and the children are with you ' said Mrs Black Duck

"We have three with us They are somewhere in the rice,' spoke up Mr Quack

'Only three!" exclaimed Mrs Black Duck 'I have eight '

We lost two on the way down," said Mrs Quack

'Two - legged hunters?" questioned Mrs Black Duck

Both the Quacks nodded "There are more of them than ever before" said Mr Quack

"I dread the rest of the journey," said Mrs Quack "We had a poor nesting season Three of my eggs were stolen by cousins of Blacky the Crow Blackbird the Gull caught one of the babies and a Hawk caught another. Then those dreadful fire-sticks killed two and we still have the worst part of the journey to make. You may not know it, cousin but there are fewer Ducks this year than last and more hunters I'm worried."

Peter could see that she looked worried. So did handsome Mr. Quack.

POWER STRIKE IN PITTSBURGH HITS BUSINESS

Electric Shortage Hampers Retail Merchants, Irks Average Citizens.

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Retail merchants' and citizens' tempers are the principal sufferers in this city's expensive power strike, which will enter its fourth week Tuesday.

Most of heavy industries generate their own power, and operations in the steel and iron mills, in the coal mines and other key industries are nearly normal. Flaming furnaces of the steel plants still light up the murky sky.

But as the strike drags on, restrictions on the use of power and the lack of public transportation—made more irritating by the rainy weather of the last few days—add up to a big headache for the average person.

There are numerous inconveniences, but few people are actually suffering as a result of the costly strike.

Living habits of a large segment of the 1,500,000 persons in the 817-square milea rea have been reversed. Instead of riding to work, many now walk, and large numbers of day workers find themselves on night shifts.

This is because the strike-bound Duquesne Light company offered to supply power during off-peak hours to about 350 manufacturing plants, and many of them are operating from midnight to 7 a. m.

Department stores were closed during the first week of the strike, but reopened last Monday with emergency power. However, without streetcars to carry shoppers downtown, the stores are doing light business. Some reported they probably would have large stocks of seasonal goods, especially women's clothing, left on their shelves.

General bpusiness in the area, according to the University of Pittsburgh's Bureau of Business Research, dropped during the first two weeks of the strike from an index of 198.6 to 147.6, based on the 1935-1939 average.

Most of the decline in the business index was in retail trading, which fell from 218 to 82.

HITS RAILING, DIES

COLUMBUS.—(AP)— Daniel L. Rose, 23, was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs bombed, at Europe for D-day and was wounded three times in France and Germany. Yesterday, weeks before his recent bride was to arrive from Great Britain, his car struck a concrete railing and he was killed.

WRECK FATAL

PORTSMOUTH —(AP)— Evelyn Williams, 24, died last night of injures suffered earlier in the day when the car in which she was riding collided with a wrecked car which was in tow.

HENRY IVERSON'S answer to the housing shortage and the dearth of materials with which to build is to dig up the earth in the area surrounding a new home site and—presto (that is, five months of hard work)—you have a pise, or rammed earth house, that will be the envy of your neighborhood. Iverson's $5,000, six-room, rambling, earth home, top, is near South Haven, Mich., and to prove to skeptics the durability of the earthen walls, he lets them drive a spike into his garage, lower left. At lower right, Iverson is shown left explaining his home-made machinery for mixing the 50 per cent clay and sand for his pise house. The chicken wire, left, is used to hold the cement that he will place over the outer wall.

BUCYRUS WILL PROBE HEAVY FIRE LOSSES

Business, Industrial Leaders Plan Meeting With City Officials Tonight.

BUCYRUS—In an effort to determine why Bucyrus has suffered so many heavy fire losses during the last couple of years, a group of industrial and business men are scheduled to meet with city council and other city officials tonight.

Purpose of the meeting is to survey the city's fire fighting needs and to determine if additional equipment is needed, or what other changes in the fire fighting system may be necessary.

The meeting has been called by Harold Smith, president of the Smith Tool and Engineering company, who asked officials to attend.

The Mader block $100,000 fire last Thursday was the fourth total loss in the city since 1944. Others were the Newberry, the Morris stores and the Home Lumber company.

It has been endorsed by the Galion Health Commissioner, O. R. Kackley and the Galion Medical board.

The Blood Type Index will be a permanent file of all persons who have blood typed, and will be available at all times to permit quick contact of donors in case of emergencies.

Miss Margaret Loris, president of the club, is urging every citizen of Galion and surrounding communities to participate in this project at no cost to the person being typed.

Every person should have this done she said so that a permanent record may be kept on file at all times, and in case of emergency, a quick check be made to find the right blood type. # 300 WORKERS AT BREAKFAST OPENING DRIVE

Chairman Sounds Challenge at Kickoff of Campaign For $94,067.

their quotas will be either met or exceeded.

"It's within the power of all workers to decide if Mansfield will remain a progressive city, or if it will slump and become decadent," Slabaugh commented.

"A survey made by the Community Fund shows that 40 per cent of the Mansfield population receives direct benefits from the fund. The other 60 per cent indirectly benefits because of the job taken over by the fund."

Campaign headquarters for the drive, which ends Oct. 23, were moved to the YMCA building today, with a volunteer secretary on duty from 9:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. Mrs. Jane Williams, executive secretary, said reports from the first day's receipts will be announced tomorrow.

FUNDS STAY IN CITY

The breakfast was opened by W. A. Brandenberg, last year's fund chairman and host, who also stressed that workers "top their goals" for the collection, all of which will remain in the city this year. The War Chest, which was a part of last year's campaign, was dropped from the current drive by unanimous vote of the fund's board of directors.

Breakfast arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Richard Uhl of the YWCA. She was assisted by 10 Senior high school girls as ushers.

Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church and co-chairman of the educational division, gave the invocation and Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church and chairman of the church committee, delivered the benediction.

"Helping the Community," the campaign song based on a popular theme, was written by Paul Endriss, chairman of the fund's "stunt" committee. The song was led by A. L. Derr, vocal music director in the city schools, assisted by Mrs. W. Van Isham at the piano.

Seated with Greene, Slabaugh and Brandenberg at the speakers' table were George L. Draffan, president of the Ohio Brass company, representing the Manufacturers' club; Rev. Gilbert of the church division; A. L. Allen, sr., of Empire Steel corporation, vice president of the Manufacturers' club; Clarence D. Fike, representing A. F. of L.; W. F. McCartney, representing CIO; Mayor Roy W. Vaughn; Fred B. Hout, president of the Community Fund; Supt. W. L. Miller and Msgr. Goebel, co-chairmen of the educational division; Charles N. Shultz, oldest continuous worker in the fund, and Elmer A. Eckert, publicity chairman.

Community Backs Its 'Fund' Method

WHEN several hundred Community Fund workers gathered this morning for a splendidly staged kick-off breakfast at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, it was a far cry from the days of the 20's when the fund was just getting under way.

John H. Finefrock, who was president of the fund in 1922, recalls: "It was exceedingly hard work up until 1925 when the industries became sold on the idea of the fund. The public began to see the benefits of the fund as early as 1922. We didn't necessarily get more money then, but more people began to contribute."

William M. Weldon who took over as president in 1925 has this to say: "Some of the same agencies which are now well established and on their own feet were real burdens to the Community Fund when it first started."

A word from these men who worked with the fund in its troubled first days must be heartening to present day workers when the community in general is "sold" on the fund as the fairest and most efficient means of supporting the 11 Red Feather social agencies of the city.

In the first year of the fund's drive there were only 2,000 subscribers; last year there were 18,000. These figures indicate clearly to what extent the fund has broadened its appeal in the community.

Looking back, it is also interesting to recall that a score of years ago workers were raising within a few thousand dollars of this year's goal. It is inconceivable that Mansfield's citizens could let anything but success mark the end of the present campaign.

Gen. Stilwell, Valiant Soldier

PASSING of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, at the age of 63, is another of the instances in which one of the nation's truly great military figures withstood the rigors and dangers of war, only to fall victim of a disease which drained his strength and finally caused his death.

Gen. Stilwell, like the late Gen. George Patton, was one of those determined characters who fitted well into the needs of desperate warfare but who sometimes seemed too rough and outspoken to meet requirements of diplomacy, as in his clashes with Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, which led to his withdrawal from the Far East command in 1944.

At no time, however, was the capability of Gen. Stilwell's leadership questioned, nor was the loyalty and devotion of the men who served under his command, and it is a deserved tribute which Secretary of War Patterson pays in saying: "Every soldier in the army has lost a faithful friend . . . his memory will serve as an inspiration to all ranks in the army for all time."

Grand Climax of Baseball Season

FOR SPORTS enthusiasts this is the most nerve-wracking day in what has been a tremendously exciting season in big league baseball. Tie-up of St. Louis and Brooklyn in the National league at the end of the regularly scheduled games, with a playoff which placed the Cards at the top, provided plenty of thrills at that stage of the affair.

Then came the alternating win and lose surprises of the World Series, with three games each going to the Boston Red Sox and to the St. Louis Cards—and that's how it stands at the moment. Tomorrow's game in St. Louis will decide it—and you can imagine the tenseness of the situation to those who regard the outcome of the series as much more important than the meat shortage, the approaching election, the disagreement with Russia or the disturbed conditions in China.

Those To Whom Nothing Is Sacred

WHILE vandalism sometimes seems to reach a point that reflects dominance of destructive instincts, it may be doubted if any form of viciousness exceeds that of defiling cemetery property by damaging or disfiguring monuments or headstones marking the last resting place of departed residents of a community.

From Ontario comes the distressing word that the village cemetery has again been invaded by vandals, headstones removed from foundations and monuments disfigured by paint.

Writer of the communication which brings this information puts it mildly. She says: "I think that anyone evil-minded enough to destroy cemetery property, if caught, should be justly punished."

Yes, and not only that, every decent person in the Ontario community should unite in an effort to apprehend the culprits, and see to it that punishment is sufficiently severe to discourage any such acts in the future.

Don't Detain the Speaker, Please

A MANSFIELD MINISTER calls attention to need for better timing of club programs, so that persons who accept invitations to speak will be able to apportion their time and meet other engagements of afternoon or evening.

He says that while a definite time is usually set for a talk that he is asked to give, he frequently finds progress of the program so delayed that considerable time is lost and his entire day's schedule disrupted.

It appears, from information, that such a situation occurs most frequently in women's club groups, as men's clubs ordinarily adhere closely to a specified starting and stopping time.

Some ministers—and the one who calls attention to this lack of regard for timing is one of them—have such a full schedule for many of their days and evenings that any delay of a program in which they are to have a part cannot be excused . . . and he asks, in a kindly sort of way, that this be brought to public notice, in the hope that the thoughtlessness which has been responsible will be overcome by realization of the difficulties created by such delays.

It was Ellen Wilkinson, British member of parliament, who said: "At 18, had God decreed, I could have run this country perfectly. Now I am more modest"—which draws Grove Patterson's comment: "At 18 all of us knew more than we ever did before or have known since."

The Swiss Family Robinson, whose adventures have delighted so many children, solved their housing problem by building a home in a tree. Of course they had the advantage of having a wrecked ship to provide them with lumber.

MERELY TRYING TO KEEP UP

Truman Really Tries To Secure Services of More Capable Men

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Harry Truman has received a lot of criticism for not surrounding himself with higher type men in the White House. One reason of course is that Truman is genuinely fond of the poker-playing, joke-telling Missourians and Mississippians who are around him.

On the other hand, few except those on the inside know how hard Truman has tried to get others to join his staff. He begged Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., to become assistant secretary of the navy. He urged Bob Nathan, former Brain Truster for the War Production Board to become an economic adviser.

One of his most significant talks was with Isador Lubin, a White House secretary under Roosevelt. The talk indicates that Truman at times feels a sense of genuine loneliness.

"I just can't afford to come back to work for you," Lubin gave as his excuse, when the president first invited him to return. "My daughter is growing up and my expenses are increasing. I just can't live on a government salary."

The president countered by saying that perhaps he could find means of meeting Lubin's financial requirements. This had Lubin stumped, and he hesitated. Actually he had other reasons for not wanting to come back, but he didn't want to hurt Truman's feelings by saying no. Finally, he blurted:

"Well, Mr. President, there's something I sort of miss around here."

"You mean," suggested the president, "that you miss Roosevelt?"

"Yes," replied Lubin.

"Well, I miss him too," said Truman. From the tone of his voice you could tell that he very much meant it.

Argentine Meat.

Most people have forgotten it, but the late President Roosevelt got into quite a controversy in 1939 over the relative merits of Argentine and American beef. Many people at that time said he was casting reflection on the honor of the American cow and claimed he had committed such a political blunder that he couldn't expect to be re-elected.

At that time, the idea of importing Argentine meat was pure political dynamite, much more so than today when the public is clamoring for meat. At that time there was ample meat in the USA, but despite that fact, Roosevelt ordered the U. S. navy to purchase a mere driblet of 21 tons of Argentine canned beef.

Immediately there was a hue and cry from western cattlemen. They even went so far as to introduce an amendment to the Naval Appropriations Bill whereby the navy would be required to buy only American meat.

Roosevelt, however, stood his ground, even stated publicly that Argentine canned beef was better than American canned beef.

Under an agricultural department ruling, Argentine fresh or frozen beef cannot be imported into the United States because of hoof-and-mouth disease. However, canned beef can be imported. So also can meat—largely mutton—from Patagonia, southernmost end of Argentina, which is disease-free.

During the war the British bought up most of the Argentine meat supply on a lend-lease agreement with the USA, whereby part of the Argentine meat was used for the American army abroad. However, there is no reason why the British could not be induced to divide some of this meat now, in view of the fact that it was purchased with American money.

War Plants for a Song.

The big boys operate so smoothly in Washington that the public seldom knows what's going on until it is called on to foot the bill. One operation that ought to be watched is the tug-of-war by the big steel companies to take over the government's new modern steel plant in South Chicago now operated by Tom Girdler's Republic Steel.

Built by Uncle Sam for war purposes, the South Chicago mill cost the taxpayer around $90,000,000. It is one of the most streamlined in the country. The question now is: Who will get this industrial windfall?

After the last war, government factories were sold for a song to the private companies which operated them, and, some years later, the army and navy found themselves needing increased armaments with few munitions plants at their disposal. At one time in May and June of 1940, even after France fell, some of the big industrialists deliberately stalled on armaments until the treasury promised them a tax bonanza on the depreciation of new war plants.

As a result, some army-navy men hope that all of Uncle Sam's war plants will not again be turned over to private industry for a song. However, Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn, the War Assets Administrator, has different ideas. He wants to get surplus war property off his hands as quickly as possible—a policy which frequently plays into the hands of big business.

Tom Girdler Bids.

Dovetailing with this policy, Republic Steel has offered to buy the government's South Chicago plant for $30,000,000, about one-third its original cost. Payments would be made over twenty years at $1,500,000 a year. No interest would be paid to the government.

Only bidder against Republic Steel so far is Henry Kaiser. Shut out of the steel market, Kaiser has decided the only way he can get steel for his automobiles is to make it himself. He has offered to rent the government's South Chicago plant at $2,000,000 a year for the first three years.

Kaiser contends that the government would be able to take the plant back in case of increased international tension, and that, in the interim, it will get more money from him than from Republic.

Most interesting thing to watch in this deal will be the influence of George Allen, RFC director and one of the closest men to President Truman. Allen is a director of Republic Steel, is also considered the messenger boy for Victor Emmanuel, who has an interest in Republic Steel. Thus company officials have a pipeline into the White House day or night.

On the other hand, trust-busting Attorney General Tom Clark is charged with discouraging monopoly in the sale of war plants. So it will be interesting to see whether George Allen's friend, Tom Girdler, or the attorney general wins out.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, Oct. 14, 1926.

Fred L. Slone was elected president of the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Effort was being made to expedite mail service between Mansfield and Cleveland by using Southwestern interurban line.

Stock selling campaign was launched by Ohio Public Service company.

Katherine Conn was elected president of high school Girls' Glee club; Thelma Reed, secretary, and Mariana Remy, treasurer.

Birth report: Son to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickson, 195 West Third street; daughter to Mr. and Mrs. George Fox.

Capt. Thomas M. Bell was appointed aide on staff of newly elected state commander of Spanish War Veterans' association.

Will G. Herrold was in Williamsport, Pa., attending general conference of Evangelical churches.

* * *

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

City laborers threatened to strike and council raised their wages from $2 to $2.50 a day.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On October 14, 1874, the Mennonites purchased 100,000 acres of land in Kansas.

Dave Boone Says:

THE SCRIPT for today's OPA show couldn't be more screwball if Olsen and Johnson were doing it. Now, believe it or not, a factory head who went to a lot of trouble to get 38 steers to slaughter and serve free to his workers has been stopped by the agency.

* * *

OPA comes up with a ruling that it "would destroy the historic and normal pattern of meat distribution" — in other words, if you get some meat openly and aboveboard when the government can't get you any, it ain't a matter of good health, it's a matter of patterns.

* * *

It would be great if the OPA could crack down as sharply and as quickly on the black-market racketeers who are getting most of the meat by a pattern that sickens the public.

* * *

So I suppose a fellow can get in trouble, too, if he can't buy any clothes and cuts himself a pair of pants. And he probably destroys a historic pattern if, being unable to find shoes, he shoots an alligator and makes himself some slippers!

Anti-Housing Control Forces Are Lining Up.

WASHINGTON — The big decontrol drive is on, and the next major objective is housing.

Right now, it is slightly eclipsed by the spectacular nationwide meat shortage with all of its anti-price control angles. Nevertheless, the anti-housing control fight is fast approaching open fireworks.

On one side is the national housing agency and several affiliated groups.

On the other is an army of real estate, finance and building interests, spearheaded by the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the National Association of Home Builders.

All participants are well-represented here in Washington, and spokesmen for both sides tell you quite frankly that the fight is rapidly reaching a crisis.

They say the conflict has three key issues:

1. The proposed (and tabled) Wagner - Ellender - Taft housing bill.

2. Federal controls over the building industry.

3. Rent controls.

N. H. A. favors all three as assets in the fight to ease the housing shortage. Their opponents oppose all three on the grounds that the bill, if passed, would only make the situation worse, and that existing federal controls actually are curtailing housing production.

Those are harsh words, pardner, but the words the boys already are using are even harsher.

For example, Boyd I. Bernard, Philadelphia president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, flatly accuses Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt of telling the country a number of untruths about the housing situation.

Call up the association's local office and ask them what Bernard means, and they tell you that there is no truth to Wyatt's assertion that the country is short three million houses.

They go ahead to say that there are more houses for every thousand people in the country today than there ever have been before, and conclude by insisting that "one of the best ways to ease the housing shortage today is to get rid of rent controls."

Although allied with the real estate group in ultimate objectives, the National Association of Home Builders takes a different tack—stating that the housing shortage is getting worse, but that federal controls are largely to blame.

The Home Builders also charge N. H. A. with being untruthful, asserting that "houses are not being completed in the volume claimed by government spokesmen." They blame the N. H. A. for the shortage of nails and other essentials now bottlenecking building activities.

Naturally, it goes without saying that N. H. A. spokesmen deny all the foregoing allegations, lock, stock and barrel. Furthermore, they return the compliment (mostly incognito, of course, since they're still public servants) by charging that the activities of the real estate and building groups are retarding the housing program.

So the battle of words begins. Herb Nelson, policy writer for the real estate men, says that "Wyatt and his fellow travelers don't want housing. What they want is to remain in power."

N. H. A. spokesmen swear that the real estate men "don't want housing in a hurry—they're making too much money out of the shortage."

Sometimes the housing people confine their rebuttal to reports on the program's current progress, but gradually the gloves are coming off the fists of all the fighters.

The housing control war is on. Now it only waits for the end of the meat control fight to catch the spotlight!

Farmer's Diary: "Burning Leaves Is Waste."

THE LEAVES of the maples and elms come fluttering down. Constantly they clutter up the lawns and sidewalks; they fill ditches and sewers. During rainy seasons they will make hard surfaces into slippery hazards.

If the city dweller thinks only of the convenience of the present moment, all the cluttering leaves will burn. Many times already this year I have watched gray-blue columns of smoke rising a half mile above the street before leveling off, while reluctant flames ate slowly through a heap. The bulkier substance goes up in gas and smoke, leaving only a slight ash. The winds bear the fragrant perfume far and wide.

Falling leaves are a part of Nature's way of farming. They put back upon the earth beneath the forest tree layers of material to replenish the soil material that has been newly built from the air and the sunshine as well as from the minerals of the earth, brought through the wide-spread hair roots into the sap of the giant tree. That is why forests grow and replenish themselves, if let alone.

Did you ever think of cities as robbers of the land? Great quantities of farm products are used in the cities each year, both for food and for industry. Much of it never goes back to the land in any form whatever. The natural balance is disrupted. The land gradually wears out. "Dust bowls" are formed because the organic matter of the soil is lacking.

Leaves make excellent mulch for a garden. When dampened and weighted with a sprinkling of earth or stone they settle and are rotted down rapidly. Earthworms eat them and make them into living soil again. Scientists have found that the earthworm is about the most accurate soil maker—bringing mineral elements from the depths and digesting masses of organic matter in its remarkable gizzard. Even the "trace elements" are found in the earth where the earthworms thrive.

Perfect soil makes healthy plants. Healthy plants make healthy human beings, and healthier animals. Health is natural—illness and disease are signs of something lacking. When we learn to replenish the land that grows our food it will not wear out. But the natural cycle must be completed—and burning leaves do not help the matter.

California Is Absorbing Labor Surplus.

SAN FRANCISCO—The Oakies and the Arkies came streaming across California borders in the late 30's, seeking a refuge in her valleys, and thereby created the problem described by John Steinbeck in his "Grapes of Wrath." It wasn't a pretty picture.

They were fleeing from a sequel to "Gone With the Wind," not yet written in its sweeping, dramatic entirety, a book of what has happened in the South since reconstruction days. It would tell the whys and wherefores of its broken-down agricultural economy; struggling along usually under either bourbon or demagogic leadership. The effect was a futile grubbing in the thin soil, and going into debt.

So lots of them finally packed their few belongings and their undernourished children into jalopies and headed west to the promised land.

It turned out to be not so promising then because California had its own troubles with the depression that had hung on for so long.

The war came. The great war industries not only lapped up these folks into assembly lines that built ships and airplanes and other things, but more and more other folks. Another migration began. From the South and also the Middle West other people came to work at war production.

But what would happen to all these when the war ended? The prophets of gloom never seem to take account of the great recuperative power of the American people and their institutions.

They foresaw war plants shut down, hordes unemployed—some put the estimate as high as a million.

They saw another "Grapes of Wrath" of a different kind, the sort that big eastern industrial centers know. And the politicians were disturbed, because this, in the end, always becomes their problem. Gov. Earl Warren, himself, was pessimistic not so many months ago.

But nothing of the sort occurred. California is absorbing the surplus, and also a new migration that has set in since the war, and at the rate of 20,000 a month which, with an excess of 7,000 births a month over deaths makes a total monthly addition to the population of 27,000.

When I visited Governor Warren at Sacramento I found a cheerful man. Jubilantly he clicked off the surprising and happy statistics. California's population is bigger than ever—9,200,000, which is 300,000 more now than on VJ-day, and over two million more than in 1940. More people are at work in California than ever, even above the wartime peak. Unemployment now is down to 260,000, a drop of 215,000 from last March.

"I would rather see 100 cities of 100,000 population than to see a few big cities just get bigger," said Governor Warren.

That is an ideal. Contributing to it are the power, irrigation and flood control projects of California's valleys being developed by the federal government, including the great Central Valley project, bigger than TVA, to provide farms and homes for new settlers.

Thus far the immigrants have concentrated largely in the big cities, this and Los Angeles. The objective of the state's reconstruction and re-employment commission is for a de-centralized economy to get factories into the small towns.

Only in two cases did the expected shutdown and quick drop in employment occur — shipbuilding and aircraft.

But most other industries are holding their wartime gains under reconversion and some are doing even better.

In all of this California sees her opportunity to establish an industrial empire of her own, to declare her independence from the East.

Ohio Republicans Display Great Confidence.

COLUMBUS, OHIO — To witness the full tide of Republican confidence, you have only to come here to Ohio's capital. The GOP in Ohio is riding high, wide and handsome, convinced that victory in 1946 will be merely a prelude to the election of a Republican president in 1948.

Perhaps the most impressive manifestation of this confident tide is "Honest" John Bricker. If the polls, the local political sages and John Bricker are right, then there is no doubt whatsoever that he will be elected to the United States senate in November. This will be the climax of a career that has seen him three times elected governor of Ohio, each time with a larger majority.

What is more, the probable size of his majority in November will make him a formidable contender for the presidential nomination two years hence. Republicans who distrust Bricker do not find that at all palatable. But it is a fact nevertheless.

When Bricker was persuaded to accept the vice presidential nomination at the Republican convention in 1944, thereby smoothing the way for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey for president, a ground swell of resentment was evident.

For many of the delegates, Bricker was the ideal Republican presidential candidate, and they felt that he had been prevailed upon to make an unnecessary sacrifice. With a reaction setting in against the Democrats, against New Dealism, against "regimentation," that is likely to be even more true two years from now.

Talking with Bricker in his handsome law offices on the 33rd floor of Columbus' most towering office building, you have the sudden and comfortable illusion that nothing in the world has changed. Wars, revolutions, the technology of the B-29 and the atomic bomb—it was all a bad dream propagandized by wicked men for their own evil ends.

Bricker looks so presidential, in the solid, white-haired tradition of another century. On the wall facing his desk, is a massive enlargement of one of the simpler, less-posed photographs of Abraham Lincoln. And that, too, is in the tradition.

If the GOP is seeking a business candidate in 1948, they have him right here. He believes in taking off all government controls. He talks of "turning industry and labor loose to do the job." That, he insists, would get houses built.

When the name of his friend, Robert A. Taft, senior senator from Ohio, comes into the conversation, a quizzical smile lingers a moment on Bricker's face. He shakes his head a little.

He does not venture to criticize Taft. But it is plain he feels that long residence in Washington has undermined the once staunch Republicanism of his friend and fellow worker in the vineyard. Taft is for a bill which would let the government build houses. He has some kind of scheme to have the government subsidize hospitals.

Bricker holds the firm conviction that no government intervention whatsoever can be tolerated. If you once begin it, then you will never know where to stop.

It is not merely an intellectual conviction. Bricker has great respect—even awe — for wealth as such. He is proud of his friendship with wealthy industrialists such as Ernest T. Weir of Pittsburgh.

Bricker's campaign attack is simplicity itself. He talks about regimentation, the end of free enterprise, and the death of opportunity. But this last boomeranged a little.

In filing an application for a radio station with some associates, Bricker stated he was worth more than $100,000. Sen. James V. Huffman, the Democrat whom Bricker intends to unseat, remarked in a campaign speech that he thought this proved that opportunity still flourished in America.

If a man who has spent only a few years off the public payroll could lay aside that much money, then surely opportunity was very much alive.

By implication at least, Bricker brands Huffman and other Democratic candidates as Communists. He repeats the now familiar Republican line that the Democratic party is dominated by the PAC which, in turn, takes its orders from Moscow. This means, he says, appeasement of Russia in our foreign policy.

250,000 A YEAR

Navy Would Train That Many for Six Months.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Navy plans for the proposed universal military training program contemplate a quota of about 250,000 men a year receiving six months of active duty.

The six-month plan is in accord with the army's present idea, a compromise agreed to by the war department after an original proposal for one-year active duty had met with strong opposition in congress.

As explained by Rear Adm. Felix L. Johnson, assistant chief of the bureau of personnel, and Capt. T. F. Darden, the proposal is to take the 250,000 into training in quarterly increments. The marine corps would receive approximately 40,000 of the total.

Firemen To Buy Rescue Equipment

LOUDONVILLE — Improved equipment for rescue work soon will be added by the Loudonville fire department. The more than $1,000 cleared on the firemen's concession at the street fair will be used for purchase of an inhalator and a smoke mask. Members of the committee, Chuck Getz, Burley Saunier and Russell Schneider, plan soon to visit the Columbus fire department rescue squad to inspect their equipment.

Roscoe W. Sturges Takes New Yorker as Bride

DETAILS have been received here from New York of the wedding of Roscoe William Sturges, former Mansfield resident, and Mrs. Inez T. Cookman of New York City.

The wedding took place Saturday in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church in that city.

The bride wore a deep green suit with black accessories and a corsage of orchids. She was attended by Mrs. Richard Palmer of Boston.

Bayard Webster of Greenwich, Conn., served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Will Irwin, 240 West 11th street.

Mr. Sturges is the son of Mrs. Roscoe Williams Sturges, sr., of the Allerton, New York City, and the late Mr. Sturges and is the grandson of Mrs. Henry Hale Sturges, 170 West Second street, this city. He was graduated from South Kent school and Wesleyan college, Middletown, Conn., and received his discharge from the United States marine corps as first lieutenant last fall after three years service. He is a member of the advertising firm, Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn.

The bridegroom is also the nephew of Mrs. Paul E. Sturges, sr., 476 Chevy Chase road, and the late Mr. Sturges.

His bride, the daughter of Mrs. Edith H. Thompson, and the late Paul Thompson of New York, attended schools in France, was graduated from Scarborough school, Scarborough-Hudson, N. Y., and attended Stephens college. She made her debut in Boston.

Son of Late Wellington T. Leonard Weds Columbus Girl In Kentucky

A MARRIAGE of interest is one which occurred Sept. 28 in Lexington, Ky., between Aubrey Ann Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hamilton of Columbus and William Herron Leonard, son of Mrs. Wellington T. Leonard, Columbus, and the late Wellington T. Leonard. The late Mr. Leonard will be remembered as former editor of the Mansfield Shield, and former secretary of the Manufacturers Club. He was prominent in Mansfield affairs.

The bride, graduate of University High school, attended the University of California at Berkeley and is now a student at Ohio State university. She is affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority.

The bridegroom attended Greenbrier Military Academy and was graduated from Arlington High school. He is now attending Ohio State where he is affiliated with Sigma Epsilon fraternity. He spent three years with the U. S. Army, serving with the infantry.

Mrs. Brown Fox, 110 Marion avenue, and Cal Leonard, Brunswick hotel, sister and brother of the bridegroom are members of the family residing in the city.

Gmunden, Austria, Scene of Rites Of Mansfield Man, Viennese Girl

In the Lutheran church in Gmunden, Austria, at 4 o'clock Aug. 10 Miss Ernestine Schliefelner of Vienna married Master Sergeant Heinz Ickert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ickert, 386 Central avenue, this city.

M/Sgt. Ickert has seen service in Africa, Italy and finally Austria where he is stationed in the Headquarers, Military Intelligence Center United States Forces in Austria, in Gmunden.

The Ickert family who arrived in this country from Stendal, Germany, in 1937, sent their son's bride-to-be wedding finery from Mansfield, including a white satin and net gown and a fingertip veil of illusion which was bordered with a double row of lace. Pearlized orange blossoms formed a halo for the head piece.

A letter was received recently by the Ickert family from Miss Schliefelner who in halting English, expressed her gratitude for the gifts. The bride's engagement and weddings rings were also a gift of the Ickert family.

The parents of the former Miss Schliefelner were unable to attend the ceremony, but have acquired two weeks passes to make the trip from Vienna to Gmunden to meet their daughter's husband in the near future.

Sgt. Ickert expects to bring his bride to America next year.

MISS GUTHRIE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guthrie, 130 Glenwood Heights, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Betty Elaine, to Clifford W. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Walker, Mansfield R. D. 4. The ceremony will take place October 20, at 3:30 p. m. at the First English Lutheran church. Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell will officiate at the double ring closed church ceremony.

New York Stylists Show Elaborate Designs, Trim

By DOROTHY ROE

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK — If you've been mousing around in a tired old suit and a pair of loafers for the last five years, giving patriotism as an excuse, you might as well face the fact that the war is over.

Despite all the continuing talk of shortages, New York's current couturier collections are a dazzling spectacle of gorgeous real silks, fabulous embroidery, spectacular evening gowns and elegant afternon costumes. This season you must look lavish.

Sophie shows a collection of evening gowns which have the whole town talking. For the first time since before the war, formal gowns are really gala, lush with silk taffetas, satins and real lace. Exquisite handwork is lavished lovingly on them, in the form of tiny all-over scrolls of appliqued lace or net, painstaking beading, flashing sequins and jewel embroideries.

Her restaurant and dinner suits also are something to behold, guaranteed to make any tired wallflower look like an accomplished charmer. These replace in a large degree the elaborate cocktail dresses of the last few seasons.

Fira Benenson also goes to town with rich silks, using them with restrained skill in a collection sleek, ladylike and elegant. She clings to the long, slim silhouette, drapes fabric tight about the figure, introduces a few uneven hemlines. She makes good use of fragile imported laces, encrusts her gowns with loving hand embroidery and detail.

Muriel King borrows the motif and the coloring of the butterfly for much of her fall collection. Butterfly-shaped inserts mould the middle area of several afternoon dresses; a dress of brilliant blue crepe embroidered with matching beads has a butterfly skirt spreading from pointed folds at the hipline to a notched hemline.

Her suits are long-jacketed, fitted at the waistline, flatteringly flared below the hips. She likes vivid colors in textured wools, buttons her jackets high at the neck.

Evening gowns in the collection are romantic, elaborate and important—in keeping with a season in which the sky's the limit.

Looking at the important occasion dress, afternoon or cocktail as you like, draping will be the hallmark of fall and winter style, 1947. One simply must have a draped skirt to be in style—perhaps a tunic with a moderate drape caught with a bow under one hip; or draped folds over both hips; or a draped hem, harem style; or a Polannaise drape pulled into bustle loops at the back.

Linked with this style are different versions of the wrap-around dress. Fira Benenson is a masterful designer in this sort of thing, and her molded figure-line dresses, softly wrapped and draped to one side, express this feeling for subtlety. From the practical angle, the side-wrapped dress is perfect—it permits slight draping, and at the same time does not alter the straight skirt line that one must wear with a short-length coat. This holds true of uneven hemlines which are definitely chic, but certainly not for street wear no matter what the occasion, unless completely covered, or worn with furs in mild weather.

From Paris comes this news of the undraped dress. Ruth Jacobs of "Women's Wear" writes: "The ultra-slim, undraped town dress in black or colors, hits new strides, adding a plus to its simple lines with new turns of closing, pockets, plackets." Almost every important Paris house has shown wrap-around dresses of jersey and light woolens, using tricks with buttons, fabric ties, pockets and neckline details.

Other dress details of importance are the dolman sleeve, narrowing at the wrist, the long torse bodice; and the prevalence of transparent yokes and cut-outs in the more formal day dresses.

MURIEL KING . . . autumn elegance in a brown silk crepe day dress with draped skirt, black velvet trim.

TUNIC SUIT . . . Important trend of the season, done by Herbert Sondheim in gold wool with black sealskin beneath wide pocket flaps.

Shortages Will Dominate All Fall Shopping

By DOROTHY CAREW

NEW YORK —(AP)— Shortages will continue to dominate fall shoppe plans of the average American.

Industry and retail sources outlined this picture for consumers who still are trying to whittle down a long hard-to-get list in an effort to clothe their families.

Children's underwear and men's clothing vie for first place among current shortages.

Sleepers and children's undershirts are almost unobtainable. Infants' knitted wear of all types is scarce.

Men's shirts are in no better supply than they were six months ago, and the supply "will stay tight until the fabric situation eases," the National Association of Shirt and pajama manufacturers said.

Men's shorts are still hard to find, and pajama output is confined to "dribs and drabs" of the higher priced types.

Cotton knitted underwear producers are caught between their ceilings and higher yarn costs to the extent that the underwear institute said all types—particularly heavyweight underwear—would be scarce this fall and winter.

And with nylon hosiery lines just out of the way, allocations of nylon yarn to stocking manufacturers have been cut an estimated 10 to 15 per cent.

Popular priced lingerie will become increasingly hard to buy from now until Christmas, the council of lingerie associations and manufacturers said. Low-priced underthings and the more expensive types are in better supply.

High quality women's ready to wear is not sufficient to meet the demand, but one retail buying representative said "there are plenty of shoddy dresses, coats and suits."

Shoes may become a problem, too. At present retail inventories are adequate, trade sources said,

Mr. Burwell liked the apartment well enough, but was bothered by some small stains on the ceiling of the study—this was back in the days when apartment hunters let anything bother them.

'Don't worry," said the renting agent soothingly. "The last man who occupied this apartment was a professor who always was experimenting with some funny-smelling chemicals."

"I see," said Burwell. "Then those spots must be the chemical."

"Not at all," said the renting agent. "They're the professor."

Legendary is the story of the cloak-and-suiter who came home lamenting the loss of a crisp new ten-dollar bill. "I looked in de west pockets, de two pants pockets, and de right pocket of mine overcoat, and it ain't there!" "How about de left pocket of de overcoat?" suggested his wife. "I couldn't look dere," said the unhappy man. "Dot's de lest pocket I got. If it wasn't in dere, I'd drop dead!"

Three or four heaping tablespoons of dry mustard dissolved in a full tub of warm water is as effective as a steam bath and induces perspiration without the discomfort of very hot water.

Wage Hike Ends 7-Month Strike

LA PORTE, Ind.—(AP)—A seven-month-long strike at the Allis-Chalmers Co. plant here was ended today.

The strike started March 14 over disagreement of a new contract involving wage increases, seniority and vacations.

Cecil Abbitt, president of Local 119, United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers (CIO), said the new contract provided for wage increases totaling 13½ cents an hour in addition to a 5-cent increase granted by the company last December.

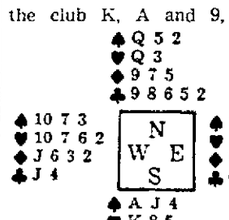
Three entirely different kinds of meaning may be attached to a high-low signal by your partner when he is discarding on the declarer's long suit First and most frequent is his expression of desire for a lead of the suit in which he gave his high-low. Next most frequent is his information to you that he will hold protection in that suit and wants you to hold your guards in some other suit or suits Third, and just as vital when it fits the case, is his order to you to unblock that suit, so he may eventually win a trick in it instead of you, thus protecting you from a throw-in play.

North, a show-offy bidder, foresaw a possible heart contract by his vulnerable opponents, so made that fantastic 2-Hearts bid to head it off, intending to bid clubs later, just as he did That, however, showed up his own heart weakness to West, one of the world's foremost distaff experts. Mrs Ralph C (Sally) Young, of Philadelphia. So she led the heart 2, the J forcing the K.

Now the declarer scored with the club K, A and 9, finessed



(Dealer South East-West vulnerable)

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♣ | Pass | 2 ♥ | Pass |
| 2 NT | Pass | Pass | Dbl |

the spade J, then led the diamond 8 to the Q East laid down his Heart A and returned the 4, which was ruffed by the club 6. The diamond A was taken, then the 10 led to the K East had to choose now between a heart return, which would give South a spade discard and a ruff, or a spade from his K. Either would present South a trick, giving him an extra above his contract

East was to blame for this bad score the pair got in the tournament, as he did not note his partner's discard of the diamond 6 on the third club, followed by the 2 on the first diamond lead. If East had seen that high-low, and consequently put his K on the diamond A trick, the third diamond lead would have been won by Mrs. Young's J, in the West. A spade return then from her hand would have obliged South to lose another trick, thus preventing the extra, which meant the difference between a good and bad score.
